Five of Spades:

Roamer

Characteristics: Changes and travel are what the Five of Spades represent. And, to be sure there is a kind of restlessness that shows itself in certain ways. Occupations that offer some variation are what most of them like while finding routine uncomfortable. Many of them relocate to a new place often or are frequent travelers. Their mission for truth and the expansion of their inner being frequently affects their spiritual journey. There is a degree of personal sacrifice made in the area of education or for those they love. Their early life is when this is particularly the case. It is after this time that satisfaction in love and finances usually arrives and their desire for travel slowly fades as they find more meaning in the appreciation of their home and with family life. They are lucky to have much social success because of their Karma Card, however; on occasions their social life can be difficult, or partaken of in excess. They have good organizational skills and a fundamental sense of value. Many of them are financial experts or highly successful in sales. Their life gets better, especially after age 39, and with age, as they go through a transformation for improvement. The spiritual Nine in Venus in their relationship connection causes many disappointments personal, particularly with friends and those they love. Therefore, groups, rather than one to one, are where they usually are more successful. They have to learn to show unconditional love in their nearest relationships so that they can tap the higher side of their spiritual cards that are located in the personal areas (Venus and Mars) of the Life Path. Usually the Five of Spades is one of the luckier cards in the deck, in material terms, because the cards in their Life Path are the more successful ones.

Relationships: The pair of Nines in Venus and Mars inform us of that. However, because of the soul's development in personal relationships, with the right attitude, such finalities can be turned into graduations, ultimate achievements and profound completions. Their friends and piers like these individuals; they are very popular and there is an enjoyment of travel, love and romance. There are sure to be some disappointments due to being here to finalize some relationships they began in previous lives and let them go. Therefore, disappointments in love from time to time will exist. There will be some important relationships in their life that to them appear to be what they want, but these will not work out as hoped for. They are able to permit their partners the freedom to be their best, as well as sacrifice for those they love. When Jupiter is brought into the picture, we note that this card at the minimum will bring a friendship lasting a lifetime that is both special and rewarding. After they have comprehended the lessons of the pair of Nines, it can also bring a lot of love into their lives. Their biggest love experience frequently comes later in their lives for this very reason. An awareness that what is taken from them is probably not good for them anyway, and is best left forgotten. It is something the Five of Spades person needs to learn. Two Nines are clearly in their personal lives and are very strong. We think we will see our own personal and romantic progress with Venus and Mars present, but that can mean letting go of what we desire. This can be a great challenge for some Five of Spades, but for others it brings about the existence of a tremendous nature entailing spiritual love.

Personality Connections: Heart males are a good choice for marriage with Five of Spades females, but it will have some obstacles and problems. Even though there are sure to be a few lessons given in the relationship, Club women can get along with Spade males. Good friends come from Diamond males.

Confrontations: Fives represents those who are here to experience what life is about since they symbolize the number of the human race. Therefore, we can see more clear examples of this in the Five of Spades. The Five of Spades is best known for the degree to which they will go in order to have new experiences in their life. This is partly because they are the strongest of the Five cards. While this is the case with all Fives, the Spade remains the strongest.
