This combination has no interest in striving for power yet they are a natural in leadership positions. What the Pisces brings to the table is spirituality and good looks. The Pisces-Monkey is a lover of beauty. The first thing one notices about the Pisces-Monkey combination is their charisma. This comes about by mixing the happy Monkey characteristics with the uninhibited Pisces. The Monkey is known not just for being happy but for its problem solving abilities. They are sensible. They have a great deal of practical judgment. They take the necessary steps to make it a part of their lives. If this combination sets out to get something, the odds are that they will get it. The Pisces-Monkey can be counted on to have a clean and stylish appearance without making a show of it. They can be compared, perhaps, to the duke or duchess of the manor yet without a hint of snobbery. Whether that appearance is just a façade is somewhat up for grabs. Their popularity and charm, however, is without question. They manage to combine the beauty of nature with class. Much of what they have was given to them by friends and admirers. This includes everything from fashionable clothes to jewelry and mansions. They have a feel of the international about their being. They do not have an arrogant bone in their body, yet they are refined.

Romance: There is a special fascination around the Pisces-Monkey. All of this means that people fall in love with them in a manner they do not fall in love with others. They fall totally and deeply in love. The vanity of this combination likes that. Because others fall in love and pursue them, they can be perceived as weak. Others might try to use them and that is a big mistake. It's almost guaranteed to cause problems. Catching the Pisces-Monkey will probably require finances. This combination loves money. They can get it, save it and use it appropriately. There is a lot of drama surrounding the love life of the Pisces-Monkey. In a manner of speaking, this is to be expected because of the beauty such individuals have. Their beauty is generally more than skin deep, but they are mysterious and charming as well.

Relationships: In compatibility for this combination Gemini as well as Sagittarius-Snakes, and Virgo-Horses and Boars should be avoided. At the top of the list for potential love partners are the Taurus, Cancer, Scorpio and Capricorn-Dragon. Continuing with the positive realm are the Taurus, Cancer and Capricorn-Rat. Another good choice is the Taurus-Monkey.

Family Life: This combination loves pleasure and comfort and well-appointed rooms. They might live in a terrifically upscale apartment in New York or a famous and expensive hotel. This individual is generally not focused on being a parent when they are young, but with age they improve. This is true with the overall picture of their lives as they become more responsible while they mature and experience life. The Pisces-Monkey loves opulence in their home. As a lover of beauty they are very much into decorating their abodes and it is common to find fancy, expensive and exotic objects there. The furniture will surely be sturdy and conservative. They will not have tiny cramped rooms, but will likely have an impressive fireplace.

Likelihood: This combination has a fine awareness of current events and knows how to put their knowledge to good use. They have mental strength. In addition to everything else, they are imaginative and can grasp things quickly. Should they be a boss they will be loved because of their compassionate nature. They are able to be strict but usually choose to get results via reason and suggestion rather than more directly. The Pisces-Monkey can accomplish nearly anything they seriously set out to do or be. They are talented in most every respect including both the physical and mental. They might be a bit accident prone, but this is usually because they are always on the move.
