

Introduction

With the first breath you take in the energy pattern of the universe at that particular time and place. This is alignment of the stars, planets and constellations at that particular moment. As you breathe in your internal energy pattern is formed from energy vibrations radiating from the stars in their alignment and position in the cosmos. This is the Five Element Theory of the Tao which applies to Chinese, Western and Birth Card astrology based on your first breath.

When you breathe in the energy pattern from the cosmos it is the same energy (vibration) in the trees (wood) and the Planet Jupiter which is in your liver, the same energy (vibration) in the sun (fire) and the Planet Mars which is in your heart, the same energy (vibration) in the ground (earth) and the Planet Saturn which is in your spleen & stomach, and the same energy (vibration) in the mountains (metal) and the Planet Venus which is in your lungs, the same energy (vibration) in the rivers and lakes (water) and the Planet Mercury which is in your kidneys at that time. The Taoists know "as above so within". This is the Taoist Five Element Theory and your internal energy pattern is formed at that moment in time and space for your life.

The only way to change this pattern to balance and transform it into your Immortal being is to first discover it. This is the purpose of this report, which is to discover your internal pattern so you balance and transform it through these five systems of astrology. Each system gives you a different look or perspective to formulate your own persona. The Taoists leave nothing to chance so with five different angles to view your persona you should have the correct idea of what you are looking at given five different perceptions of it. The five systems are:

- Chinese Twelve Animals
- Western Zodiac Twelve Signs
- Chinese Animal & Western Sign Combinations
- Western Sun & Moon Sign Combinations
- Birth Personality and Destiny Cards

These are five different astrological systems combined together to give you your complete persona (the internal energy pattern adopted by an individual). This is like five blind men trying to describe an elephant (your persona). Each blind man smells, tastes, hears and touches the elephant. They all detect the same smell, taste, noise of the elephant but they all touch it in different areas. The first blind man touches the elephant's ear and describe the elephant as an elephant's ear, the second blind man touches the elephant's trunk and describe the elephant as an elephant's trunk, the third blind man touches the elephant's tail and describe the elephant as an elephant's tail, the fourth blind man touches the elephant's foot and describe the elephant as an elephant's foot and the fifth blind man touches the elephant's belly and describe the elephant as an elephant's belly. Each blind man has own perception of the elephant but not the whole elephant. But when you combine all five perceptions together you will see the whole elephant.

This is the approach this report is taking: giving you five different but similar and connected astrology systems for your whole persona and the results are amazing. That is why this report is called Cosmic Astrology, because with the six sets of analysis and explanation you will receive your persona (internal energy pattern) that you took in with your first breath so many years ago. Once you know your persona then you can balance and transform it to become your real self and discover divinity through Taoist Immortal practices.

As a special note: when you order the Cosmic Astrology system, you receive up to 3 different persona reports, one for you plus up to 3 free reports on celebrities you have most admired throughout history in the arts, politics, business and sports. Once you know their persona you will understand why and how they did the things they did based on their internal energy pattern.

This is your energy journey of self-discovery through Cosmic Astrology giving you the patterns of the universe and how they repeat themselves through different combinations revealing to you the secrets of yourself and the people you admire the most.

Overview

In your persona report you will find information from five different astrology angles as discussed above. Here, we provide a summary and an overview explanation of a persona report, to help you understand the rest of this report. After absorbing this overview, you will be ready for the next sections: your persona reports and analyses.

Persona Example

If you were born on June 6th, 1956, then your persona components of year, element, combinations, and birth card) would be as follows:

You were born the Year of the Fire/Monkey
Month of the Horse (Gemini)
Animal (Monkey) and Zodiac (Gemini) Combination of the Horse Monkey
Zodiac Sun (Gemini) and Moon (Taurus) Combination of the Instigator
Jack of Diamonds Birth Card of the Seller

This would give you the persona of:

- Fire Monkey (your birth element and your Chinese animal sign)
- Horse (Gemini) (your Zodiac sign in both the Chinese and Western systems)
- Horse Monkey (the combination of your Animal and Zodiac signs)
- Instigator (your Zodiac Sun and Moon combination)
- Jack of Diamonds / Seller (your birth card personality and destiny)

After reading the analysis sheets of your complete persona, you will have a clear understanding of yourself and how you interact with the people around you. Also you will understand why they react to you the way they do.

Celebrity Example

Now let us have some fun with some heroes or stars of the past as you discover their persona and why they did the things they did or are currently doing.
